Results

If you answered mostly A's you are Elizabeth Bennet from Jane Austen's Pride and Prejudice!

You are kind, loving, but extremely hot headed. Your wit and intelligence draws many people to you. You love humor and delight in "anything ridiculous." She often presents a playful good natured impertinence, that does not offend. You do not like to follow social conventions and tend to follow your heart. However, you can sometimes be proud and can be quick to judge others.

If you answered mostly B's you are Hermione Granger from J.K. Rowlings Harry Potter Series!

You have a remarkable intellect, are clever, loyal, level-headed, book-smart and logical. You are always ready to help anyone in need. You always are focused on the task at hand, but can come off as rather bossy sometimes. However, you have a tendency to panic when you are feeling overwhelmed and your biggest fear is failure.

If you answered mostly C's you are Kate De Vries from Kenneth Opper's Airborn Series!

You are incredibly curious and love to talk. Your curiosity drives your very existence. You love changes of scenery and have an adventurous spirit. If you could do anything with your life you would choose to travel and explore the world. You love experiencing new things. You are loyal to your family and friends. You try to be friends with everyone and constantly strive to prove yourself. However, you can at times be manipulative.

If you answered mostly D's you are Kerry from Vivian Vande Velde's Companions of the Night!

You love your family and friends. You are a very loving, trustworthy and empathetic person. You are also cynical and question everything. You always try to do the right thing, but you can't help being sceptical with what you are told. You like to hang out with those that have a darker personality.

If you answered mostly E's you are Chanda from Allan Stratton's Chanda's Secrets!

Like Chanda, you are the one to depend on no matter what happens. You love to learn and go to school. You are brave and take whatever life throws at you. You may struggle at times, but you always strive through your struggles. You will help anyone at anytime. However, sometimes you take on too much and can become overwhelmed. You also struggle to take time out from life to take a break and treat yourself.
