

NEW SERIES

VOLUME

XXXI

December 2013

Copyright 2013

Published by the Department of Classics

Dalhousie University, Halifax, Nova Scotia, Canada

ISSN 0705-1085

Founding Editorial Board (1977–1991)

†A.H. Armstrong; †R.D. Crouse; †J.A. Doull; and †J.P. Atherton (Secretary)

Editor

W.J. Hankey

Editorial Advisory Council

W. Beierwaltes (Munich); O. Boulnois (Paris); †H. Chadwick (Oxford)
K. Corrigan (Emory); T.H. Curran (Halifax); E. Diamond (Halifax)
C. D’Ancona-Costa (Pisa); J. Dillon (Dublin); R. Dodaro (Rome)
H.R. Drobner (Paderborn and Rome); John F. Finamore (Iowa City)
M. Fournier (Halifax); R. Friedrich (Halifax); †H. Gadamer (Heidelberg)
S. Gersh (Notre Dame); L.M. Harrington (Duquesne)
D. Hedley (Cambridge); A. Henrichs (Harvard); P. Hoffmann (Paris)
D. House (Lake Centre); R. Imbach (Fribourg); T. Kirby (Montréal)
T. de Koninck (Québec); T. Kukkonen (Jyväskylä); G. Leroux (Montréal)
R. Lamberton (St. Louis); S. Lilla (Rome); L. MacLeod (Halifax)
J.M. Narbonne (Québec); P. O’Brien (Halifax); J.D. O’Meara (Fribourg)
E. Perl (Loyola Marymount); P. Rorem (Princeton)
F. Schroeder (Kingston); H. Tarrant (Newcastle); A. Treiger (Halifax)
C. Trottmann (Tours and Paris); and C. Wildberg (Princeton)

Dionysius is the journal of the Department of Classics, Dalhousie University, and reflects the established character of its work. It publishes articles on the history of ancient philosophy and theology, including Patristic theology, and their nachleben. It has an especial interest in the Aristotelian and Neoplatonic traditions. Dionysius considers philosophy’s relation, both negative and positive, to Christian belief in both ancient and modern times. As well as philosophical articles, Dionysius will publish articles on Classical and later literature and history, and on Hellenic, Christian, Jewish, and Islamic religion, especially when they have a connection to philosophical questions.

While Dionysius does not regularly review books, it will publish Review Articles on books within its area of especial interest and will accept books sent to it for such treatment.

Dionysius is now published in a new series beginning with volume XVI in Dec 1998. Our website is at: <http://classics.dal.ca/Journals/Dionysius/>.

Notes for Contributors

Articles will be selected for publication by the editorial board, which may set conditions in terms of revisions, length, bibliography, etc. Normally, the board will be assisted by members of the Advisory Council.

Contributions, in English or French, should be sent to the Secretary of Dionysius, Dr. Wayne Hankey, by email or regular post. Submission of an article is taken to imply that it has not been previously published, nor is being considered for publication elsewhere.

Accepted articles must be submitted both in hard copy and electronically, preferably in Microsoft Word format. Manuscripts should be double-spaced on standard-sized (US or A4) paper, with a wide left-hand margin. The typescript should be prepared to accord with the University of Chicago Style Manual, with footnotes numbered consecutively. Authors may either place a full citation in the first footnote (see Harrington's article in Dionysius 23) or use a bibliography organized alphabetically by the authors' last names with publications in alphabetical order and citations by author and short title within footnotes (see Hankey's article in Dionysius 23). The SPIonic family of fonts should be used to enter Greek text. Authors employing Greek must send a hard copy with correct Greek at the time of submission.

Manuscripts will not be returned. All contributors of articles will receive two copies of the issue and 10 off-prints, plus a PDF of their article as it appears in the issue.

Dionysius

Marion McCain Building, Room 1172
6135 University Avenue
Dalhousie University
PO Box 15000
Halifax, NS, B3H 4R2 Canada

Tel: 902 494-3468

Fax: 902 494-2467

email: dionysius@dal.ca or hankeywj@dal.ca

Dionysius goes online

We are pleased to announce that this issue of Dionysius is accessible as an online journal via Dalhousie Online Journal Systems (OJS). The print version will continue to be available.

Subscription rates will be the same for both print journal and online access. Please visit <http://ojs.library.dal.ca/dionysius> for subscription information. Print subscription forms are available at the back of this issue.

Online subscribers will have access to the current year's journal and to the previous four years; earlier back issues will be accessible to all readers.